Section 2

Any person having a professional interest in industrial hygiene may become a member entitled to the privileges of membership, provided that they show interest in the field of occupational and environmental health and safety and pay membership dues.

Section 3

Additional classes of membership may be created with approval of the Board of Directors of AIHA National.

Emeritus membership may be extended to a member who has retired from the practice of the industrial hygiene profession, with approval of the Executive Committee. An Emeritus member retains all privileges of a member but will not be assessed dues.

Section 4

Membership in the association shall terminate upon the resignation of a member, failure to pay dues, death, or expulsion from membership for violation of the bylaws, AIHA National code of ethics, or any act deemed by the Board of Directors as injurious to the reputation and standing of the industrial hygiene profession or the association. No member, including the Board of Directors, shall be expelled, except for the failure to pay dues, without a review of the facts as presented by both parties and a two-thirds vote of all Board of Directors at a duly constituted meeting.

Article IV MEMBERSHIP MEETINGS

Section 1

Meetings shall be held a minimum of six (6) times per year, unless obviated by circumstances. The time, place and content shall be designated by the Program Directors and announced to the membership.

Special meetings shall be called at the discretion of the President, with the approval of the Executive Committee, or in response to a written request of 15 members of the AIHA-RMS in good standing.

Section 3

Members in good standing shall be notified of all membership meetings at least 14 days in advance of the date set for the meeting.

Section 4

The participation of ten percent (10%) of members in good standing shall be required in order to vote on a new business issue. Voting on a business issue can occur in person at meetings or through an online voting system, such as a poll on the AIHA-RMS website. Examples of business issues include editing the AIHA-RMS bylaws, mission, or vision, changes to the structure of the AIHA-RMS board, or proposing legislation on behalf of the AIHA-RMS. The AIHA-RMS Executive Committee is responsible for determining whether any item should be considered a business issue that will require a vote.

Article V. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1

The Board of Directors shall consist of the officers President, President-Elect, Past-President, Secretary, Treasurer and eight (8) Directors and two (2) Board Members at Large.

Section 2

The Executive Committee shall consist of the officers.

Section 3

Only members of AIHA National who are in good standing may serve as officers. No person shall serve as a director or officer in more than one (1) local section at the same time.

Section 4

Their respective terms will overlap with one-half Directors starting their first year of office while the other one-half continue into their second year of office. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer are also two-year terms, but the terms will overlap so that the positions are not changed in the same year.

Section 5

Such resignation shall take effect at the time specified and acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 6

A vacancy in the Board of Directors because of the death, resignation, or removal may be filled by a two-thirds vote of all the Board of Directors at a duly constituted meeting for the remainder of the term.

Section 7

If this type of vacancy occurs in the office of President-Elect, the Board of Directors shall select one (1) of its members to serve the remainder of the term; if unable to fill the office by this means, the Board of Directors may select from the membership. If this type of vacancy occurs in the office of President, the President Elect shall automatically accede to serve the remainder of the President's term. At the end of this term the President- Elect shall automatically accede to the position of President upon election of his/her successor.

Section 9

Because national membership is required for local section executive committee members, the AIHA-RMS will set aside sufficient funds each year to cover the cost of national membership for executive committee members whose employers do not cover the cost of national membership. Use of these funds will be approved by the Board through the annual budgeting process.
